REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT

The path to success for Dorchester District Four requires mutual interaction in a positive manner from all the stakeholders. "Pulling Together" is the driving force that will provide quality education to all students. The district must continue to recruit, retain and train quality teachers. Measuring student achievement through test results must be used to drive the implementation of our curriculum.

We were honored to celebrate many successes during the 2008-2009 school year:

Woodland High School received the 2008-2009 Palmetto Silver Award

Air Force Association recognized an elementary teacher as Air Force Association Teacher of the Year

A student from Woodland High School was selected to attend the South Carolina Governor's School for Science and Math

A student from Woodland High School was the first to be selected as a Congressional Page for Representative James Clyburn in Washington, DC

Seven teachers received National Board Certification

A student at Woodland High School received a Palmetto Fellow Award

Woodland High School seniors received approximately $3,000,000 in scholarships

Parental involvement in our schools is the continuing ingredient necessary to strengthen the learning environment. Thank you parents, teachers, and staff for your ongoing support of Dorchester Four.
